

THE CURLEW IN THE GRIPS OF NEPTUNE'S NOR'EASTER

November 14, 1962

This is an actual photo taken by a U.S. Navy sailor from the deck of the USS Compass Island on November 14, 1962, and shows the schooner Curlew in distress north of the Island of Bermuda during Neptune's Nor'easter. The story of Curlew is told in Chapter 11 of the book Neptune's Nor'easter.

Schooner Curlew in 2017

“A Magic Ship!”

